Dear Families,

Studies show that parental involvement in a child's education is one of the most important factors in raising children's self-esteem and academic achievement. Moreover, most experts agree that parental involvement should go beyond attendance at parents evenings and open days. We realise, however that each family is unique – with its own priorities, needs, talents and time constraints and so we will try to provide as many different kinds of opportunities for parental support as possible.

Please review the volunteer opportunities suggested below and check any you are interested in or tell us what you would like to do. Timetable changes are dependent on the day and year group, so please note what times you are available.

I will start contacting volunteers and setting up a schedule within the next two weeks.

I am also hoping to hold an aspirations day, where parents can come in and talk to the children about the work that they do. I am aware that we have some very talented parents amongst us and it would be beneficial for the children to learn about the different types of jobs that they can aspire to do when they grow up. If you think that is something you would be interested in taking part in, please do let me know.
